Photograph Permission.

As an everyday part of school life, there are many occasions when we like to take photographs of the children. These include, but are not limited to:

- As a record of achievement or learning.
- To use on school display boards which could be in a place to which visitors of the school have access.
- To document school activities involving children for example Assemblies, school plays etc, to be put on the school website or for use within the school newsletter, prospectus, year books or on the action point, in which instance the child's name would not be used.
- Photographs for the local press (for example Launton Lines, Oxford Mail etc) for publicity purposes in which case the child's name would not be given to the newspaper without your permission.
- These photographs are deleted from the school cameras at the end of the academic year.

Please tick the relevant box:

- My child's photographs can be used for the above purposes.
- My child's photographs can only be used as evidence of their learning.
